Renewable Energy Solutions

CONCEIVE WHAT'S POSSIBLE.

KATHLEEN R. SHOWALTER

kathy@enerjyn.com

Kathy's critical thinking clarifies the multiple possibilities available to realize a client's vision. Her extensive experience representing numerous renewable energy projects, along with her deep understanding of economic development issues, provide the ideal framework for her strategic counsel. Kathy is skilled in financial incentives packaging, grantsmanship, and the education of both elected officials and the general public around the complex issues related to renewable energy. She has a masters degree in training and development which has formed the basis for effective group facilitation and education services.

RONALD L. FISCUS

ron@enerjyn.com

Ron's unique skill and expertise drive the innovative solutions that become the groundwork to achieve a client's vision. His energy technology experience in both the public and private sector facilitates the development of thoughtful programs designed to achieve multiple objectives. From concept to completion, energy projects under Ron's supervision benefit from his awareness of the larger picture and his attention to detail. Ron is experienced in the coordination of design consultants and processes, zoning and development approvals, strategic planning, tax increment financing, grantsmanship, and project financing.
